U. S. Encased Postage Stamps II

- F. BUHL & CO. 1c. EF plus, insert slightly lustrous. Mica remarkably fine. Exceptional, despite a minor obv. frame flaw (as made). RR; Lilly's had a marginal piece of the stamp missing. Friedberg priced @ $170., listed in Scott's "U. S. Stamp Catalogue Specialized," 1969 ("S") @ $200. Private sale record of $210! 165.00
- 5c. Very Fine. Rev. insert with much lustre, but with a tarnish spot at eleven o'clock. Stamp placed slightly to l. (as made); mica somewhat scaly and with a minute flaw, although still nice. A more than acceptable example from this rare firm 135.00
- 10c. VF or so, reverse showing some unimportant dirt and verdigris. Stamp somewhat dulled and ever so slightly discolored, but mica exceptionally clear. (S-$200.) 152.50
- BURNETT'S COCAINE KALLISTON. 1c. Extremely Fine. Clean insert and brass, bright stamp, excellent mica, but case slightly bent. (Can undoubtedly be straightened!) Scarce 38.50
- 3c. Very similar to the last, the case almost unnoticeably bent. Insert with almost complete silvering; stamp unusually vivid, the mica remarkably clear. Even more scarce 48.50
- VG-Fine. Insert almost EF, but stamp pale, and mica lightly cracked and broken at upper l. resulting in a tiny hole at Washington's eye. Not as bad as it sounds! 24.50
- 5c. Extremely Fine and choice. Insert a little tarnished, stamp bright, mica perfect except for slight crazing about top of r. panel. Underrated: Lilly's brought $70. 57.50
- 10c. EF with qualification. Insert partly silvered, some light corrosion about periphery. Stamp remarkably bright, mica exceptionally clean and clear. Unusually fine! (S-$80.) 67.50
- VF, insert partially lustrous. Dark green stamp; mica slightly scored and cracked. 52.50
- Somewhat mishandled and played with. Stamp dull, soiled; mica clear but faintly scratched. Little better than acceptable. Worth having for the mica 18.50
- BURNETT'S STANDARD COOKING EXTRACTS. 5c. VF, minor evidence of handling. Stamp vivid and bold; mica clean, clear, and tight, but nicked and abused in spots 37.50
- 10c. Unc., but impaired. Touch of silvering on obv. frame, rev. insert with full silver. Stamp bright, off-center a little to the l. Mica clear, but tight and puckered, resulting in cracking at upper right and lower left. Flaking at the lower left cracks has created a small hole in the mica. Presumably flawed when fabricated, as the brass shows no signs of wear F-VF, faint nicks on obv. and rev. frames, a few minute digs at top of r. panel. Stamp bold and attractive, its centering perfect; mica clear and tight, but displaying a few signs of handling. Scott priced at $70, records to $77.50 55.00
- DOUGAN (the Hatter). 3c. Very Fine. Insert attractively patinated. Stamp deeply colored; mica slightly cloudy with an obvious diagonal crease at bottom (as made). One in the Dec. 3, 1968 Herman Herst sale (lot 131) brought $240 despite the lower Friedberg valuation... 175.00
- 5c. Choice VF. Clean, bold insert; stamp attractive, mica clear with only the most picayune spot of crazing above C of CENTS (on stamp). Lilly's had rev. corrosion. (S-$275.) 190.00
- DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. 1c. Extremely Fine. Nice stamp, flawless mica 52.50
- EF, some silvering on insert. Mica unusually clear, although with a very few trifling handling marks. 48.50 Similar, traces of rev. silvering. Stamp remarkably bright and placed a little to r., mica clear, but ever-so-slightly puckered and crazed at right. 46.50 Another, insert lustrous; stamp ultramarine, somewhat dullish; mica almost fully clear 42.50
- 3c. EF, unevenly tarnished brass, suggestions of rev. lustre. Splendidly colored stamp, mica glass-like. 52.50 Similar, insert deeply tarnished. Stamp above average, mica with two small cracks, some crazing, at bottom. 47.50 EF plus, insert with almost full silvering. Rose stamp a bit dull, mica excellent save for short horizontal crease from left panel. ... 45.00
- VF, nice stamp and mica, but case slightly mishandled and a little bent. Not too bad!.. 34.50

HISTORIC NEW ORLEANS MINT THREATENED

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT MAY TAKE BACK GIFT

Bert Hyde, New Orleans States-Item

FOR want of $1,132,000, New Orleans and Louisiana are in danger of losing a mint.

The mint in question is the old U. S. Mint at 420 Esplanade. The building has the potential of becoming one of the nation's finest museums and tourist attractions.

Mrs. Peggy Richards, director, Louisiana State Museum, said recently that unless funds are made available for maintenance and security, the building could be lost, from decay or by reversion to the federal government, which donated it to the state.

Not too long ago intruders pried off window bars from a first floor room, broke open several crates and set fire to the wood trim.

Mrs. Richards says the museum has no money to pay for guards. Nor does it have money to pay for water and power.

Under terms of the gift of the building to the state in August of 1966, Louisiana was to have refurbished the exterior of the building and the grounds by August 1968 and, to complete the refurbishing of the first floor by August of this year or the building would revert to the federal government.

Mrs. Richards said the museum was able to delay last year's deadline but she does not know what the outcome will be in August of 1969.

She said funds for refurbishing the building — cleaning, repainting, and minor repairs totalling $1 million — was placed in the state's capital outlay budget at this year's session of the Legislature. Cash for the actual work is awaiting the special fundings of bonds.

The $132,000 needed for maintenance and security never got out of the legislative budget committee.

However, Mrs. Richards said, the budget com-

New Orleans landmark, at 420 Esplanade Avenue, could be a tourist attraction. It was once suggested as a possible site for the ANA home and headquarters. Cost of repair has been set at over $1 million.

mittee is now in session and state Sen. Frederick Eagan has promised to bring the issue before the committee soon.

"We must hope," Mrs. Richards said.

The old mint building, constructed in 1838, has the greatest potential as a museum of any building in the nation, Mrs. Richards points out.

The building is sound, ideally located, with built-in artifacts dating back to and before the Civil War when the building was headquarters for the Confederate Army.

The structure, containing some 90,000 square feet of floor space on three floors, situated on 1.6 acres of land, contains 30 or more jail cells installed when the building was used on several occasions as a federal prison.

The kitchen and dining hall used by the Coast Guard when it was their headquarters are still intact. So is the old walk-in icebox.

Mrs. Richards said the old Greek Revival architecture of the building, with its rambling iron fences and gates, spacious tree-planted grounds and tight security rooms would in themselves make for a national showplace.

There are also collections of historic guns, surgical and medical equipment, artifacts of early transportation of the nation, books of historical significance, pieces of art and priceless antiques of early New Orleans, the South and the nation.

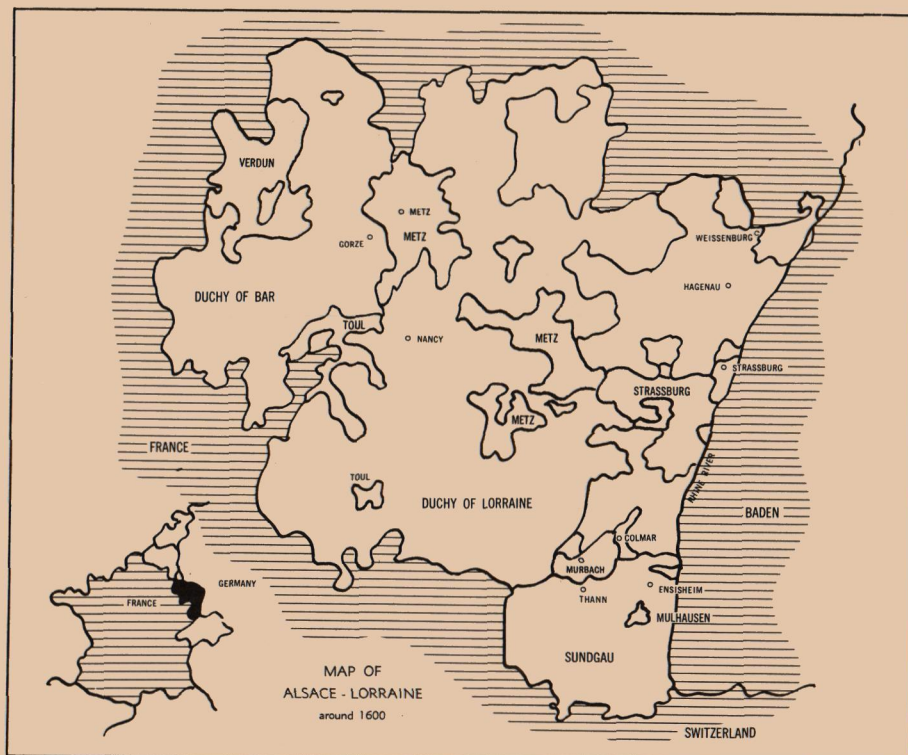

"So little stands between us and reality," Mrs. Richards said. "It is a shame we are not already set up."

The Talers or Écus of Alsace-Lorraine

LORRAINE

Lorraine (Lotharingia or Lothringen), a considerable territory lying on the Franco-German border, was a part of the Carolingian Empire. It was granted by the succeeding emperors to various supporters, and was finally divided into two parts, Lower Lorraine (modern Belgium) and Upper Lorraine, the present French province. Always a bone of contention, it had a tempestuous history under the descendants of Gerhard, count of Alsace (1048-1069). The duchy became united with the duchy of Bar, to its northwest, in 1431. The united duchies were fought over for some years. However, with the accession of Anton II of the House of Vaudemont in 1508 the succession to the duchy became stabilized. In 1552 Henry II of France invaded Lorraine and seized its three bishoprics, Metz, Toul, and Verdun. Under the long reign of Charles III (1545-1608) conditions in the duchy were much improved despite religious difficulties and German incursions.

Francis II abdicated in the same year as his accession (1624) but remained in nominal control of parts of the duchy and issued coins from the mint in Badonviller. The reign of his son Charles (1624-1634, 1661-1669) brought Lorraine nothing but trouble. He abdicated, was restored, ousted, exiled, and continually intrigued. France occupied Lorraine during 1634-1661 and 1670-1697. His nephew Charles, France refused to recognize at all, and he died in 1690 without ever having taken possession of his duchy. His son Leopold Joseph was restored to his estates by the Treaty of Ryswick in 1697. His heir Francis III was engaged to Maria Theresa, heiress to the Habsburg territories. France would not permit the union of Lorraine with Austria, and in 1735 Francis exchanged Lorraine for Tuscany, where the Medici line of dukes had died out. In 1766 Lorraine and Bar were incorporated into France.

METZ (Bishopric)

The bishopric of Metz, surrounding the city of Metz in central Lorraine, was founded in the 4th century. It steadily increased in size by adding lands to the southeast. For a while from the 9th to the 12th centuries it was the site of an imperial mint. In 1552 the French seized the bishopric, and in 1559 the bishop resigned all his temporal rights to France. During the 1550's there were rival bishops in the diocese. The episcopal title continued to be used on coins when the bishops occupied another see also.

Verdun, now located in northeastern France, dates from Roman times. In the 10th century it was the seat of a bishopric. The town burghers obtained certain civic rights from the bishops in the 12th century. In 1552 Henry II of France seized the town and the bishopric, and France was given official title in 1648 by the Treaty of Westphalia.

Alexander Calder by French Mint

An unusual medallion rendition of the artist Alexander Calder has been accomplished by the French Mint. The portrait itself, by Nicolas Carrega, is in the form of a mobile incused on the obverse, an art form popularized by Calder, the characteristics suggesting a universe in movement, and expresses the intense joy of life that Calder captures in his bold works. The reverse is a monogram, the signature of Calder, treated in the form of a huge modern sculpture of metal. A true modern-art medal, it is available from the Administration des Monnaies et Medailles, 11, quai de Conti, Paris VI, France. Sixty-eight millimeters in size, it is available in silver for $35; in bronze for $5.80.

Arthur Sipe

P. K. Anderson, 33rd president of the American Numismatic Association, died Dec. 5, 1968, at the age of 74. During his administration final plans were made and definite sites selected for the location of our home and headquarters building which was finally erected in Colorado Springs. He was a devoted collector and lecturer on Spanish coins, an ardent supporter of the ANA and a close personal friend. We will most certainly miss his ready greeting and handshake.

James F. Kelly, professional numismatist and president of the Paramount International Coin Corporation, died suddenly at the age of 61, on Dec. 27, 1968. "Jim," as he was affectionately known, was a loyal supporter of our association. He conducted the ANA auction at Miami Beach, selling the 1913 liberty head nickel for $46,000.00, and was planning on conducting the ANA auction in Philadelphia in August. His passing was indeed a shock; we will miss him as a friend and fellow collector.

We are approaching the time to submit names in nomination for the various offices in the American Numismatic Association. From this list of nominees, you will elect the officers to serve this association and its members, and promote its best interests. I hope you will give careful consideration to your responsibilities in exercising this function.

Our Philadelphia convention in August is being very carefully prepared by a hard-working committee under the capable leadership of Thomas E. Werner, in regular monthly meetings, where the members give of their time and talents freely. I hope you are arranging your summer plans now to join us in the City of Brotherly Love, Aug. 12-16.

It was my pleasure to attend the ground-breaking ceremonies for the new Franklin Mint building in Delaware County and witness the impressive ceremonies by local and state officials. I wish them every success in their efforts to construct the eight million dollar facility.

We are now in the midst of our promotion for the 1969 National Coin Week, which culminates at the end of the last week in April each year. I trust many of you will participate in this international observance by exhibiting some of your numismatic items for the general public to see in conjunction with the theme this year, "Coins — Links in a Chain of Peace."

Your exhibits can, and often do, influence other serious collectors to join the ANA, so that if properly promoted, many new members can be obtained for our association. I have asked collectors why they haven't joined the ANA, and many times the answer is, "I was never asked to join." Extend an earnest invitation to your fellow collectors and friends to join this great hobby group of ours.

Philadelphia—A Great Modern Metropolis

All is not old and historic in Philadelphia!

In sharp contrast to its centuries-old shrines and traditions is the ultra-modern cosmopolitan Philadelphia, a bright and shining "City of Tomorrow"—tall gleaming buildings, wide parkways and boulevards, and airy promenades.

In recent years a vast improvement program involving the expenditure of over a billion dollars has literally changed the face of the city. Three of the city's improvement projects are classic examples of urban renewal.

One is Penn Center, a great complex of new buildings, concourses, and tree-dotted esplanades. Another is Independence Mall and Independence National Historical Park, the largest national park within the confines of a larger city. Still another is the Society Hill area where new and restored townhouses and graceful skyscraping apartment towers have replaced traffic-clogged ancient produce markets.

This gigantic face-lifting of three large areas in center city required the demolition of several hundred blighted and dilapidated buildings, the widening and repaving of highways and the construction of huge underground parking facilities.

Philadelphia is a center of American business, industry and finance. It is also perhaps, the most cultured city in America. Here the arts, science, music, theatre and education are found in abundance.

Philadelphia is an old town — young in spirit with a determination to be the first with the best. Its new slogan is, "You name it—we have it."

Philadelphia International Airport is served by all the major airlines in the United States. Distance from airport to center city is six miles. It is also served by Penn-Central and Reading Railroads with center city terminals.

Dining out in Philadelphia is a delightful and rewarding experience. The city is renowned for its many fine restaurants and a wide variety of excellent food—the visitor names his favorite food and Philadelphia has it!

As you can see from the above description of "modern Philadelphia"—it is one of the most pleasant cities in the U. S. to visit and we who live here feel sure the visitors to the 1969 ANA convention will return home with the same feeling.

Plan now to make Philadelphia your stop—August 12-16, 1969. Any inquiries should be addressed to Daniel J. Lorden, ANA, P.O. Box 5874, Roxborough Station, Philadelphia, Pa.

FEATURING FAKES

DO YOU HAVE THE ORIGINAL?

Information, please!

Above, to your left, enlarged is a genuine Mexico 1931 5 centavos. Next to it, the middle coin is an altered date, the final "1" having been soldered in place of some other digit. And, to your right, is the unique "Nineteen-Thirty-&a-half" which was shown on last September's page 1169. This was the coin which lost the top half of the final "1" when a handkerchief caught in the top of the "1" and pulled off the poorly soldered top half.

This month's installment carries out the September promise that the 1931 coin would be discussed in a future issue.

Below, to your left, is the further enlarged genuine date. To your right is the fake date.

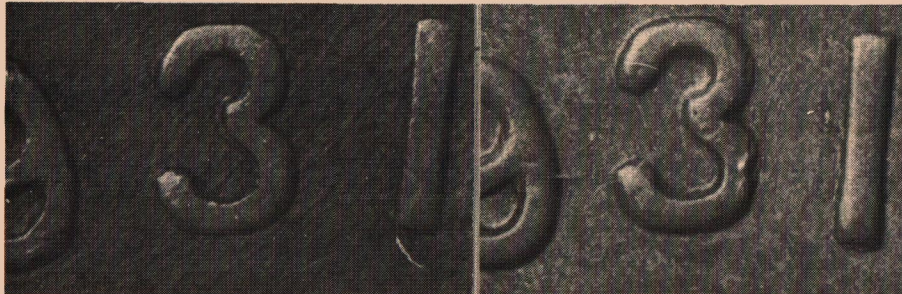

Compare each "3" . . . and then on the opposite page (top, center) study the sketch of the "3" of the genuine 1931 5 centavos.

The genuine "3" evidently was from a die which had been struck twice with the "3" punch. And, on all the genuine 1931 5 centavos pieces I've seen, each genuine 1931 was from the identical "double-punched 3" die. (You'll have to use a strong magnifier to see that doubled "3" on the genuine 1931 specimens.)

On no other 5 centavos of the 1930s have I seen that doubled "3" die.

Thus, for the present, I suspect every 1931 specimen which doesn't have this doubled "3" in the date.

I've tried, unsuccessfully, to learn from Mexico if more than one reverse die was used in 1931. If you know of a second reverse die being used in 1931, please let me hear from you.

Another genuine 1931 5 centavos . . . with the double punched "3" . . . you see at top of this page, each side of the sketched genuine "3."

At the bottom of this page is another coin which may . . . or may not . . . be a genuine 1931 Mexico 5 centavos.

This questioned coin is so loaded with black goop that it's impossible to tell, even with a 30-x stereo 'scope, which type "3" it has. Equally impossible is it to detect if there are any tell-tale symptoms of soldering around the final "1" of this coin's date.

Black goop is the counterfeiter's best friend.

Black goop hides cast texture, metal build-up, tooling marks, solder gaps. That's why I never buy a coin so loaded with black goop unless the owner cleans it first so that I can inspect it.

Lots of genuine coins do acquire such a black goop accumulation over the years. So, don't condemn a coin just because it's covered with black goop. But, until at least some of the black goop is removed, you can't be sure.

Of course, if and when the American Numismatic Authentication Trust (ANAT) raises the $50,000 needed to launch such a service (either in Washington, D. C., or in New York City, where The Smithsonian Institution and The American Numismatic Society museums will be available), then you can be sure.

Then, either send the coin to ANAT, or else ask the seller for ANAT's registered authentication certificate for that specific coin. No two coins . . . not even proofs . . . are absolutely identical. That's why a photo of the coin will be a part of the certificate.

On a coin such as these shown here, the cost for the authentication would be probably $3 . . . a very modest price for certainty.

Make your contribution check payable to "ANA" . . . but send your check to either John Pittman, 4 Acton St., Rochester, N. Y. 14615, or to Abe Kosoff, Box 456, Encino, Calif. 91317, or to Virgil Hancock, Box 936, Bellaire, Texas 77401, the three trustees for ANAT. (It'll be tax-deductible, by the way.)

P.S. Has your club contributed yet to ANAT? If not, why not?

THE TERM "play money" means different things to different people. Most, I suspect, think first of the medium of exchange used when we were children engaged in the exciting enterprise of running an imaginary grocery store, shoe shop or farm.

Such play money was made up of whatever material was available but not too available — from washers and hand drawn notes to the really desirable and scarce pieces of pot metal or printed paper. The quality didn't matter much; imagination provided the attributes that were lacking. (Little did I realize that this would someday become national practice!)

Well, that is one kind of play money, and a very important kind. Thank heaven our children and grandchildren still have play money. It teaches, entertains, and serves a useful and serious purpose.

What most people overlook is that adults have play money too, and for the same purposes: entertainment, education and function. Think for a moment of Grandad's poker games and the spielmarken or tokens he may have used. Consider the small pieces of the mid-19th century referred to as imitation coins, models or miniatures, many of which were made by the Lauer of Nurenburg.

Although I cannot vouch for its authenticity, the following is an interesting story on the subject:

The Lauers were looking for business, while at the same time, a French maker of dolls, famous for their realism and dress, was looking for a new gimmick to enhance his sales. He hit upon the idea of outfitting each doll with a purse containing miniature coins of whatever nation was his sales target. The Lauer firm received the contract for the tiny coins, which were made for several nations.

Even royalty subscribed to the trend, evidenced by a Victorian box-piece containing tiny medalettes which served as a souvenir to visitors at Windsor Castle. The medalettes portrayed Victoria, her husband Albert, and each of their children.

Tokens of admission to plays in the theatre at that time might be classified under functional play money.

One of the most interesting pieces to me is the "Old Price Riots" piece. Back in the early 1800s a famous theatre in London called Covent Garden was destroyed by fire, and a new one with the same name was built on the site. It was announced in advance that prices would be raised from six to seven shillings for a box seat and from three shillings sixpence to four shillings for a place in the pit. On reopening night, September 18, 1809, Mr. Kemble, the manager, tried to speak, but shouts of "Old prices!" rang out and rioting ensued. Constables were called, arrests made, and soldiers had to restore order. Because of the strong feeling and the agitation of the rioters, performances were held up for 66 nights. One of the ringleaders was Henry Clifford. The dispute was finally settled by compromise Dec. 14, 1809. And in 1856 the theatre burned down again.

I obtained my token from Bill Woodside, who had received it from Sidney Eastwood, who died in New Orleans in 1965. Sidney had obtained it from Henry Hunt who had it in his possession in 1902 when he wrote about it and pictured it in The Numismatist. It shows Kemble, the manager, in a fool's cap, above a penny trumpet and a watchman's rattle. The reverse shows "O P" for old prices, "John Bull's Jubilee" and "Clifford Forever." John Bull's Jubilee was a play performed on the night of Oct. 29, 1809.

German pieces, such as spielmarken and game counters, are interesting because of the fine die work and in some cases their obvious imitation of U. S. gold pieces current at the time.

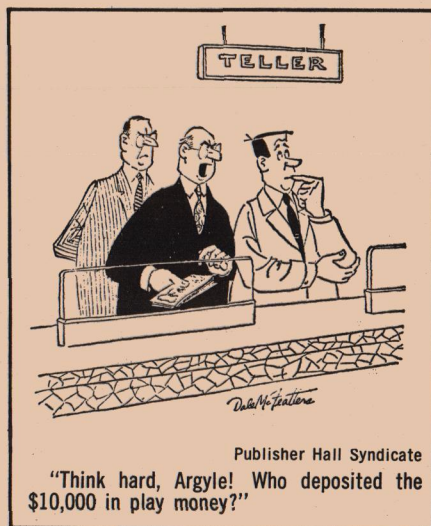

Another interesting series is the chocolate coin. Contrary to what might be your first thought, you do not have to house your collection in a deep freezer. By carefully removing the foil, replacing the chocolate with plaster or other suitable substance, and carefully replacing the foil, you will have a reasonably durable piece that can be handled almost like any other coin.

Acquisition can sometimes be a problem, particularly when one has to match wits with the smaller members of the family. Sometimes the specimens are not available at any price, trade offers are fruitless, and the craving for chocolate blocks out all numismatic logic. If one resorts to craftiness in these cases, he should be careful lest they call in their reserves — Mother. However, if one gets the little beasts on his side, they can provide pieces you never dreamed of.

Chocolate pieces come in many colors and sizes and from many countries including the U. S. Shown here are some from the Netherlands, Switzerland, Italy, Germany and Israel. Variety of scenes and devices are endless. Coats of arms, pirate portraits, ships, chariots, buildings and weapons bring back fond memories of childhood dreams.

Consider the play money of Siam, the famous porcelain gambling tokens. We are told that they were issued from 1744 to 1871 by private firms for use in their establishments as a substitute for, and to represent small change. Since they were in use well over a century, many counterfeits came into being and the firms had to continually issue new ones. One estimate is that there are about 890 varieties. They were in shapes of fish, butterflies and birds, round, oval and rectangular. Some have scalloped edges, some are serrated and some are plain. Many had colored designs on the white Chinese porcelain background. On one side, in most cases, the name of the gaming house would appear, and on the other, the denomination from one fourth to one sixty-fourth of a tical. Imagine the wagering, the hope and frustration of the individuals who used these pieces.

Coming now to U. S. specimens, we have an almost endless series of commercially produced play pieces for children. The following are examples:

- Mardi Gras pieces
- Daisy Dollars
- Old West Trail Coins
- Matching pieces
- Magic tokens
- Baseball pieces
- Souvenir items

Various laws have been enacted over the years restricting likenesses of current coins of the realm. But while these may have changed the design of play money they certainly did not slow down its production.

For example, we have those nickel-size pieces manufactured in the 1920s for use in amusement machines. Some of them read "Free Play Only," "Good for a Tune," "Good for a Free Game," etc. Q. David Bowers said, in a article in Coin World, June 24, 1964, that these pieces were coined in an attempt to avoid the laws in the states which had legislated against gambling machines which paid off in coins. The immediate result of the legislation was the appearance of these tokens which were paid in lieu of nickels. They usually could be replayed or exchanged for merchandise or cash.

The machine manufacturers staunchly maintained that paying out tokens was not the same as paying out coins. The Mills Novelty Co. of Chicago, said Bowers, was one of the leading manufacturers of the time. They issued a booklet "Court Decisions Affecting the Mills No-value Check Machine," which explained the advantages and apparent legality in certain areas of using their machines in territories where coin-paying machines were illegal. In later years Mills changed its machines to pay out "Vens," rolls of candy mints.

Since most of the gambling machines of the twenties have disappeared, these little play money tokens are the only tangible reminders of those bygone events.

An interesting set of play coins was issued in the early 1960s by the Daisy Manufacturing Company of Rodgers, Ark., called "Strong Box Coins," because a few pieces were included in a toy stage-coach box also marketed by the firm. The pieces themselves however, were identified as "Daisy Dollars." They had been made by another firm for Daisy and in 1964, two years after they had been discontinued, the Daisy Company forwarded to me their last remaining pieces.

To numismatists who are also gun fanciers, these pieces would be particularly interesting because on each is portrayed one of twelve classical guns. They are the Kentucky and Henry rifles, an 1842 percussion cap and ball pistol, the Springfield 1873 ball and cap rifle, an 1850 Sharps rifle, Colt frontier 1860 and 1840

Walker pistols, the Winchester 1873 and 1894 rifles, the 1836 Colt Patter-son and an 1830 Derringer.

Another type of play money is the counters used in the "Game of the Caesars." This is a card game copy-righted and apparently produced in 1903 by C. B. Arnold. It is based on the relationships of characters who lived in the times of the six Julian emperors of the Roman Empire, Julius through Nero. The cards, rules, portraits and the game itself, are fascinating. For example, the illustration on the back of each card is a representation of the marble biga in the Vatican. The cards themselves are not the product of a card printing company, but were made from plates prepared under the supervision of Miss H. F. Petter. In the printed description of the game, Arnold writes, "The counters are reproductions of Augustan coins. Those of brass and aluminum are made after a cast of a silver coin now in the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. The bronze penny recalls the one whose 'image and super-scription' elicited the mandate, 'Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's.' " Actually, the aluminum piece, 10 points, is meant to be a denarius, the copper, 20, a sestertius, and the brass, 40, a gold aureus.

Some U. S. play money pieces. With appeal to both young and old, we find Mardi Gras, Batman, Roosevelt, Daisy Dollars, Custer, some amusement tokens, two matching pieces, a magic coin, pirate and cardboard pieces.

Even governments contribute to our play money series, for example, the instructional pieces issued by New Zealand. And one might also include the English pieces now out but without legal status until 1971.

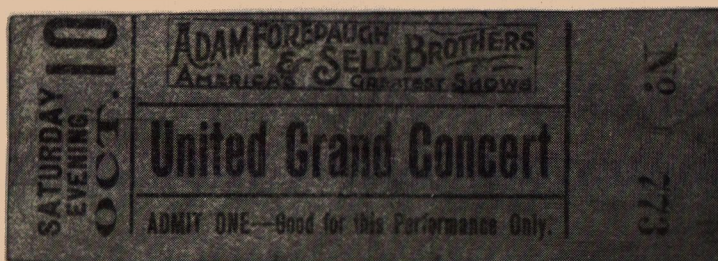

Now turning to paper play money for a moment, we find it comes in many shapes and sizes from a great variety of sources.

Play tickets. A play admission ticket for an early traveling show.

U. S. paper play money. Paper money included a circular $5.00 cardboard piece.

Aside from those designed to resemble present day bills, we also have replicas of the old broken bank notes and confederate currency.

Just as the 19th century had metal play admission tickets, so paper play admission tickets were used in the early part of the 20th century.

Not all paper play money is from the U. S. Hong Kong, for example, provides numerous packets of miniature souvenir currency notes as well as coins. One such packet contains a one pound note of the Bank of Toy Cash and ten plastic Kiddy Cash coins in various denominations of shillings and pence. It's housed in a bright yellow, partially transparent purse for the convenience of the child. It reminds me of Ludwig Christoph Lauer and his miniatures for doll purses a century earlier.

Many firms print packets of paper play money that can be obtained in most variety stores. Some of these have been known to have been used by adults in staging "Las Vegas" parties, "Monte Carlo" affairs, etc. A family I know had special money printed up for one of their parties using Confederate notes as a basis of design.

While real money is frequently saved when it is available, play money seems seldom to be preserved. Therefore older specimens are not too plentiful. Let's hope that some of our present pieces will be saved to show future generations what our play money was like, and perhaps convey to them some idea of our joys and foibles. It is sad in a way, that these little tokens of joy are so perishable.

As you can see, play money material can vary from metal to mud, porcelain, plastic, cardboard and chocolate.

"Where does one draw the line?" you might ask. I'd rather enjoy the collecting of specimens than worry about drawing lines. A friend who gave me a play piece summed it up pretty well in his note which said, "This may be just the one to complete your play money set. Sorry for the lousy condition, but just think of all the happy hours of buying candy, cars and cokes that it may have brought some kid..."

numismatic vignettes

● Most collectors of obsolete bank notes know, if they have studied our early banking history as they should, that the issuing of notes by banks was terminated by the federal legislation of March 3, 1865, which imposed a 10% tax on all such notes in circulation after mid-1866. Not so widely perceived is the fact that the check began to supercede the bank note quite a few years prior to enactment of the tax.

In the early days of our country bank notes were the usual form of loans, and most banks were largely instruments for the issuance of credit and loans in the form of their notes. Checks, as a means of transferring money and credit, were used in the earliest period of banking but largely between the bankers, banks and other business organizations.

In 1834 bank deposits subject to withdrawal by checks were about 80% of the bank note circulation. By 1854 deposits had reached 92% of note circulation; but in the next nine years (by 1863) the amount of deposits reached more than 1½ times (165%) the note circulation.

Even banking histories make only passing reference to this development. Actually, the National Banking Act of 1861 and the tax levy of 1865 were merely the coup de grace of bank notes and the heyday of state banks.

● Maybe the reason a dollar won't do as much as it once did is because people won't do as much for a dollar as they once did. The TNA News

● A man of few words was George Smith, who arrived in Chicago from his native Scotland in 1834 with a modest sum of money to invest.

Twenty years later he was a multi-millionaire banker whose wealth at that time no one has ever been able to determine. He is credited with one of the tersest retirement announcements on record when he stated to a trusted employee, "This making of money grows tiresome. I shall quit." And he did!

By the end of 1857 he had contracted his diverse businesses and put them in the hands of long-time associates, and thereafter George Smith was seen in Chicago but a few times. His residence was the exclusive Reform Club in London from 1861 until his death in 1899. His heirs and beneficiaries received some 52-million dollars, minus some pretty sizeable tax bites. (George Smith's Money by Alice E. Smith, State Historical Society of Wisconsin, 1966).

● "Talk is a lot of hot air. Writing puts it on the line." (Hammermill Paper Co. adv.) Furthermore, spoken words can and often are misquoted, sometimes to malign the speaker.

● My most unusual Christmas Present. Long-time friend Max Vlotkoffsky, member 25722, sent two red washers which, he claimed, would buy drinks (small for pop or beer, larger for stronger spirits) at a Christmas party. The catch: washers received in Illinois on December 21 — the party was in California on December 14. Will they be valid next Christmas, Max? Clever idea, just the same. The party was for employees of a firm which makes aeronautical hardware, of which the washers are examples. So, TAMS experts, do these washers qualify as tokens? — Glenn S.

NEW & RECENT ISSUES

by Ernst Kraus, LM 129

It is the important duty of The Numismatist to record and illustrate new coins. To accomplish this, members in the United States and abroad are invited to submit new issues to Ernst Kraus, Room 939 (include room number in address), 393 Seventh Ave., New York, N. Y. 10001. Coins will be photographed and returned as soon as possible, and a credit line will be given to anyone assisting.

Bulgaria

The Bulgarian Orthodox Church, the national representative in that country of the Orthodox Eastern Church, was responsible for the creation and preservation of a united nation and for laying the foundation for a Slavonic literature, through which the Slavs became inheritors of the Byzantine civilization. By imposing the Christian faith in the second half of the 9th century, more as a political expedient than a great belief, King Boris I aimed at uniting the Slav masses with his small Bulgarian tribe. Refused a patriarch of his own by Constantinople, he turned to Rome — unsuccessful here, he turned again to Constantinople and this time was sent an archbishop. The disciples of Saints Cyril and Methodius, banished from the Moravian state after the death of Methodius, were enthusiastically welcomed by Boris. In Macedonia, one of them, St. Clement, for many years celebrated the liturgy and preached in Bulgarian. He also trained a large number of Slavs for the priesthood and in this way prepared the ground for the national church.

Communist Bulgaria has officially recognized St. Clement's contributions both to the national church and in creating a national identity, by authorizing the issue of a commemorative coin marking the 1050th anniversary of his death. Although intended for striking in 1966, technical difficulties at the mint in Sofia have delayed the release until recently.

India

One of the greatest legacies left the Indian people is the court art created during the reign of Asoka (274-232 BC). The chief monuments of this early art are the remains of the great palace at Pataliputra (Patna) and the monolithic pillars on which Asoka inscribed his edicts. The six edict pillars found have rounded polished monolithic shafts and are provided with elaborate capitals consisting of a lotus bell, an abacus decorated with geese and a crowning sculpture in the round consisting of one or more animals. They average in height from 40 to 50 feet. The finest has been excavated at Sarnath, the old "deer park" at Benares, where the "Turning of the Wheel of the Law" (Buddha's first sermon) took place. There are four addorsed lions supporting a wheel (the wheel of the law), the abacus is decorated with four smaller wheels and a bull, lion, elephant and horse. Other pillars bear a single bull, lion, elephant or horse. So proud of this national heritage, India shows the lion capital of the Asoka pillars on the obverse of its current coins.

Lebanon

The Middle East republic of Lebanon is paradoxically an Arab-Christian state; the prime languages—French and Arabic. Fifty percent Christian, thirty-four percent Arab, the country which borders Israel to the north became scarcely involved in the Arab-Israel war in 1967. A recent Israeli retaliatory raid on the Beirut airport, for a Palestinian guerrilla attack on an El Al Israel commercial liner at the Athens airport, resulted in the loss of one-half of Lebanon's commercial aircraft. The uproar of the citizenry brought about the fall of the government and for a period the religious differences in the population were in danger of being reemphasized. Overshadowed by these far more ominous developments was the disappearance of the nation's silver coins from circulation. The 50 piastres of 1952 (Y-17) has now been replaced with a nickel issue of the same design.

Y-26. 50 piastres, 1968. Nickel. United Arab Republic

The United Arab Republic was formed originally by the merger of Egypt and Syria in early 1958. The union lasted somewhat over three years or until Syria redeclared its independence in September 1961. Egypt has continued to call itself the United Arab Republic and its current coinage bears this identification.

One of the first coins to be issued after the formation of the UAR was the 20 milliemmes or 2 piastres piece issued in early 1958 to commemorate the first Agricultural and Industrial Fair held in Cairo. Nearly 4,000,000 pieces were struck and the fair has since become an annual event and now receives over a million visitors.

A decade later finds a new commemorative piece being struck by the Cairo Mint to mark the Cairo International Fair for Industry. As on the original issue a cogwheel can be found to signify industry. It was released on October 27, opening day of the fair.

Y-125. 5 piastres, 1968. Copper-nickel (.75-.25). Obverse: globe encircled by cogwheel; modern shiplike emblem dividing Christian and Mohammedan dates 1968 - 1388 in Arabic script; legend in Arabic above translates, CAIRO INTERNATIONAL FAIR FOR INDUSTRY. Reverse: value in center, 5 PIASTRES (Guerch); elaborate Arabesque design below; legend above, UNITED ARAB REPUBLIC; all in Arabic script. Edge milled. 25mm diameter. 6 grams weight. Reported mintage, 1,000,000 pieces.

Two previous issues of UAR coins have commemorated the Aswan Dam, the country's most ambitious undertaking. The high dam, when completely operational, will increase the nation's productive land by a sizeable amount, enough to provide great exports of rice and cotton. It will protect the country from the many high floods that consequently damage crops by infiltration of flood waters. The dam is nearing completion with the technical help and finance of the USSR, although the United States was one of the earliest supporters of the project and the heaviest contributor to save the ancient Egyptian temples and relics of the past being inundated by the advancing waters behind the dam.

One coin was issued in 1960 for the foundation ceremony and the other struck in 1964 to mark the diversion of the Nile. The 1960 issue was a gold coin struck in denominations of one and five pounds, while the 1964 coin was issued in gold and silver, the latter in denominations of 5, 10, 25, and 50 piastres, and the gold in five and ten pound values. A new issue is being made to mark the start of the Aswan High Dam generating plant, which began operating on January 9, 1968.

U. S. Mint Strikes Golden Spike Centennial Medal

Medals commemorating the 100th anniversary of the completion of the first transcontinental rail line and struck by the United States Mint at Philadelphia, are now available from Field Headquarters, Golden Spike Centennial Commission, Room 2419, Federal Building, Ogden, Utah. The medals, authorized by Congress, were designed by Frank Gasparro, chief engraver at the United States Mint, and are available in two sizes, 34mm and 64mm. Bronze versions come in both sizes and sell for $2.50 and $7.50 each. The larger size is also available in silver alloy at $25.

The obverse depicts the engines Jupiter and No. 119 nosing together against a mountain backdrop at Promontory, Utah, on May 10, 1869. The reverse shows a section of rail bearing the dates 1869 and 1969, with a railroad spike separating them.

Classification System

Many readers have advised that the U. S. Post Office Department has authorized new state abbreviations in conjunction with zip code and that our abbreviations should be revised. Others have written that we have added to the types, varieties, etc. Some have requested as to how I keep the classification, so as to assist in writing. Therefore, I have prepared a summary sheet which I feel is self-explanatory.

This specimen is owned by Fred Lange. In discussing this piece with officials of United Mine Workers, Lange noted that they had never seen this piece nor could they tell him what it was used for. However, it was suspected to have been used in one of the local headquarters as a trade check. The "50" on the reverse is typical of Dorman's work.

"Parva Ne Pereant"—The motto of the American Numismatic and Archaeological Society, "Let not the little things perish," reminds us of a remark by Lodge, which, while intended more especially for the historian, applies equally to the numismatist. He says: "Minute historical facts are to history as the nerves and sinews, the veins and arteries, are to an animated body: they may not separately exhibit much of use, elegant or just proportion, but taken collectively, they furnish strength, spirit, and existence itself, an historian who hath neglected to study them knows but the half of his profession, and, like a surgeon who is ignorant of anatomy, sinks into a mere manual operator."
— American Journal of Numismatics, January, 1879.

John Miles Baker, president and founder of 99 Company, setting up the display that he recently donated to the ANA museum.

day of issue approached, he began to wonder if there could be some way to prove that his coin was one actually received on the first day of issue. The "First Day of Issue" thought rang a bell; the idea stemmed from his father's stamp collection. Further thought resulted in the production of two Kennedy coin covers.

One thousand more of the covers were produced on the first day of issue of the Kennedy stamp.

Today, John Miles Baker travels the world to prepare new issues for his hundreds of subscribers to First Day-First Issue covers. His busy itinerary included a special stop on January 16 at Colorado Springs to formally present a complete set of regular issues by his company to the ANA museum.

In addition, Baker donated several hundred copies of 99 News, both volume I and II. The history and activities of 99 Company are recorded in these two volumes. They span the production of over 100 regular and numerous special issues which have created a new medium for collectors all over the world. Volume I is 76 pages; volume II, 112 pages. Copies are available from the Library of the American Numismatic Association, P.O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, Colorado 80901. Cost is $3 per volume or both for $5.00. Amply illustrated, they are an invaluable reference for anyone interested in First Day - First Issue covers.

In addition to the number of copies of 99 News, vols. I and II, donated by John Miles Baker and available for resale through the library, we would like to thank the following for their donations: Larry

99 Display Presented For Museum Exhibit

John Miles Baker, president and founder of 99 Company, personally presented to the Museum of the American Numismatic Association a complete set of the First Day - First Issue covers produced by his company. This series, a new venture in numismatics, weds coin and stamp collecting by marking the first day of issue of coins with a philatelic cover that carries the actual coin being released. These specially designed covers cover world-wide issues, in addition to U. S. coins.

The idea began when the U. S. government announced that they were going to issue the 1964 Kennedy half-dollar. Baker decided to get one for a keepsake on the first day that they were released. As the

1769 Garrick Jubilee Celebrations 1969

An official medal to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the Garrick Jubilee, the first Shakespeare Festival at Stratford-Upon-Avon, organized by the famous actor, David Garrick, in 1769, has been designed by Paul Vincze for the Shakespeare Birthplace Trust. It is available in 38mm and 58mm, in various metallic combinations. Details available from the director, Shakespeare Birthplace Trust, Shakespeare Centre, Stratford-Upon-Avon, England.

The obverse depicts a new representation of Shakespeare, based on the artist's interpretation of the Soest portrait, while standing figures of a young man and young woman symbolize the growing appreciation of the genius of the poet by succeeding generations. On the reverse, against a theatrical background suggested by curtains and the masks of comedy and tragedy, the actor Garrick is portrayed in his role of steward of the Stratford Jubilee in 1769.

Money To Bounce

BILLION DOLLAR CHECK RACKET by E. E. Hoffman. 160 pages. Illustrated. Hard and paper cover. Renay Publishing Co., Box 22, Tarzana, Ca. 91356. $4.50/2.50.

"The businessman's guide to the professional check forger," would be an apt subtitle for this comprehensive, amply illustrated book on the ways and means of check alteration, forgery and check manipulation.

Besides detailed and illustrated material on methods of obtaining and forging signatures, altering handwritten and protectographed checks, and the weakness of inexpensive "check protectors," and of safety paper for checks (particularly cheap safety paper), the book goes into other areas important to the check writer and the check casher.

An impressive and sobering array of legal decisions is included, most of them holding the maker responsible for altered checks, rather than the bank which cashed them. The weaknesses of cashier's checks, certified checks, and money orders are ticked off; injunctions to protect blank and cancelled checks are backed up with examples; and a solid collection of intelligent countermeasures is included.

Material in the book also covers frauds practiced on hotels and motels, banks, employers, small businesses, and farmers.

This basic handbook would be of extreme interest to numismatist as well as the businessman, as it impressively compares with the study of counterfeiting. It will amply repay close study. — Larry Adams.

Potpourri of Foreign Books

A number of serious numismatists purposely overlook many sound references solely because they are published overseas and in a foreign language. Numismatics should know no language barrier. True, the text translations may be difficult, but should never be impossible. Too many English-foreign language, foreign language-English dictionaries are available. Cassell's, for example, takes into consideration the many hundreds of new words and phrases stemming from recent scientific, economic, political and cultural developments, as well as many new colloquial expressions.

One may never become fluent by relying strictly to a language dictionary, but neither will one find the use of a foreign numismatic reference impossible. Illustrations are the same in any language; quantities issued, relative scarcities, and even values should easily be translated and prove not too great a challenge.

Reviewed briefly are a number of foreign references that should make valuable contributions to the library of any serious student of numismatics.

DIE MUNZEN DER SCHWEIZ, 19th and 20th CENTURIES, by Jean-Paul Divo and Edwin Tobler. 212 pages. Illustrated. Hard cover. Bank Leu & Co., AG., Numismatische Abteilung, Bahnhofstrasse 32, Zurich, Switzerland. Price unknown.

This three part reference covers the Swiss issues of the last two centuries. Each coin is illustrated and values given in Swiss francs for three conditions, along with quantities minted. Part I covers the issues of the Swiss Republic (1798-1803); Part II, the various city or canton issues (1803-1848); and Part III, government issues (1850-1966). Price was not available at review time but it is believed to be modest and interested collectors may write direct to Bank Leu.

CATALOGO DE MOEDAS BRASILERIAS DE 1643 a 1967 by Joaquim dos Santos Leitao. 216 pages. Illustrated. Hard cover. Santos Leitao & Cia. Ltda., Av. Graca Aranha 169 — Sobre-Loja 7, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Price unknown.

Here the author takes into consideration the American collector, for one short chapter covers the translation into English of the principal terms used throughout the reference. Fully illustrated, the book catalogues and evaluates the issues from the Brazilian colonial period, through Dutch rule, Brazil's "United Kingdom," the Empire and the Republic. The book is updated annually and could well be considered and compared to our own "Redbook." Again price is not available at review time but collectors can write direct to Santos Leitao; answers will be in English.

THE CONSTANTINE ROUBLE of 1825 by I. K. Antoshevskii (1904). With translation by V. Arefiev. 40 pages. Illustrated. Soft cover. V. Arefiev, 124½ Nevada Ave., Roseville, Ca. 95678. $2.50.

The book, printed by xerography, is divided into three sections: the original Russian version published in St. Petersburg in 1904 by I. K. Antoshevskii; the English translation of this version; and the English translation of a version by Baron B. von Kohne published in Berlin in 1866. Only 110 copies of the original work were published.

For many years, Russian numismatists tried in vain to research the history behind the Constantine Rouble, but at this time the events surrounding the issue were a closely guarded secret. It was not until late in the 19th century that, through the discovery of pertinent documents, it became possible to see the full picture of this era of Russian history.

CATALOGO NETO ESPANA, MONEDAS Y BILLETES 1869-1968 by Jose A. Vincenti. 48 pages. Illustrated. Paper cover. Luis Martin Bordoy, Vallehermoso 59, Madrid 15, Spain. $3.00 pp.

A small but handy reference giving current values in Spain of the coins and currencies struck and printed by the Fabrica Nacional de Moneda y Timbre in Madrid and Barcelona, a combination of our mint and Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

Coins are clearly reproduced in actual size and two values given, fine and uncirculated. Also listed are those issues stamped but not released for circulation. Paper currency is reduced in size to meet various regulations but clearness and sharpness is maintained. These, too, are evaluated.

CATALOGO NETO ESPANA, DUROS ESPANOLÉS 1701-1899 by Jose A. Vincenti. 88 pages. Illustrated. Paper cover. Luis Martin Bordoy, Vallehermoso 59, Madrid 15, Spain. $3.00 pp.

A companion piece to the above book, this one, although larger in content, covers only the "duros" or crown size coins issued from the reigns of Felipe V, 1701-1747 through Alfonso XIII, 1888-1899.

Amplly illustrated, it catalogues not only the Spanish motherland issues, but those of Latin and South America as well. Both should be ordered together.

MONOGRAMME AUF MUNZEN, MEDAILLEN, MARKEN, ZEICHEN UND URKUNDEN by Otto Flamig. 184 pages. Illustrated. Hard cover. Klinkhardt & Biermann, Helmstedter Strasse 151, 33 Braunschweig, Germany. $6.75.

A literal translation of the title would be Monograms on Coins, Medals, Counters, Trade Marks and Registers. Some 2461 line drawings, in chronological order, list the various marks found from the period of the Middle Ages (700 AD) through the current century. Listed are those of the various princes, individuals, and German states. All in German.

Specific Ideas Suggested For National Coin Week

Theme Promotes Food and Peace

Correlating money and agriculture is the idea behind the 1969 Coin Week theme—"Coins—Links in a Chain of Peace."

This theme comes from the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO)

"Coins --

Links in a Chain of Peace"

National Coin Week
April 20-26 1969

of the United Nations, which in late 1966 suggested to the governments of the world that a promising method for increasing public interest in world food and agricultural development would be to illustrate this idea on future national coins.

FAO felt that efforts for peace and international cooperation were necessary for elimination of hunger and underdevelopment. They saw coins as an educational medium for alerting the public, especially in prosperous nations, to this need.

The ANA decided to join in FAO's efforts by using this same theme for the 1969 National Coin Week, after recognizing the tremendous part they could play in helping FAO achieve its goal.

Participants in the April 20-26 coin week will find a wide range for their imaginations and creative talents within the theme. An historical outlook could study the linkage of food and money through primitive money derived from food and agriculture or through monetary terms originating in agriculture. Examples of each follow:

PRIMITIVE MONEY DERIVED FROM FOOD AND AGRICULTURE

Ceylon — Stylized fishhooks
China — Hides, silk, sorghum, rice, tea coupons
Egypt — Barley
Ethiopia — Rock salt, pepper
Greece — Cattle
Iceland — Dried fish
India — Oxen
Indonesia — Brick tea
Iran — Mutton, wine, bitter almonds
Italy — Cattle
Korea, Philippines — Rice
Mexico, Nicaragua — Cocoa beans
Newfoundland — Dried cod Thailand — Att (weight in silver of 12 grains of rice)
Virginia, USA — Tobacco bales
West Africa — Gold fish weights
West Indies — Sugar, rum

MONETARY TERMS FROM AGRICULTURE

Carat — Greek — Carob bean Drachma — Greek — Handful (of grain)
Padan — Sanskrit — Bitter almonds
Pecuniary — Latin — Cattle
Rupee/rupiah — Sanskrit — Cattle

Other ideas can be devised from food connected historical coins, to-kens and their legends. Possibilities are limitless, for example, the double connection of the Egyptian coins depicting cotton and wheat, products which are known as the "white gold of Egypt."

For those tending to the more modern, the theme could be approached through the recent FAO inspired coins, dealing with either peace or agriculture, like the following:

PEACE THEMES

Congo — Justice Peace Work

Honduras — Peace Progress Liberty
 Jamaica — Out of many one people
 Malawi — Unity and Freedom
 Paraguay — Peace and Justice
 Rwanda — Liberty Cooperation
 Progress

Trinidad and Tobago — Together we aspire Together we achieve United Kingdom — By the industry of its people the State flourishes
 United States — Peace

The following agricultural texts have been added to coins:

Bolivia — War on Hunger Sudan — Let us work together towards providing food for all Vietnam — World campaign against hunger

FAO announced that the main international occasions for release of new coins will be the following: the FAO Regional Conferences in 1968 and 1970; the 15th session of the FAO Conference in November 1969;
 20th Human Rights Day on Dec. 10,
 1968; the Second World Food Congress; and the FAO anniversary dates of Oct. 16, 1968, 1969 and 1970.

They also reported that there will be many national occasions for its issue, either dates to commemorate in themselves or dates for which to time coin releases. They said that these may take the form of major national agricultural events, including the introduction of agrarian reform, such as a Bolivian coin in 1952;
 work on a major irrigation scheme,
 as the UAR coins in 1960 and 1964;
 the completion or other important stage of a large FAO/UN project; the holding of a major agricultural or development fair, as another UAR coin in 1958; the introduction of a new crop or the promotion of an existing one, as the Japanese rice coins of 1949 and 1959; the celebration of national farmers day; anniversaries such as the centenary of a major discovery in food and agricultural science, or of the birth or death of the scientist; the centenary of the securing of important rights by the agricultural population such as the Uruguay gaucho commemorative of 1961.

Promotion of food and agriculture
 as seen through the study of coinage, currency, medals and related objects during National Coin Week will include exhibits, participation scrapbooks, club programs and publicity through newspapers, radio and television.

ANA 896

Another pioneer of ANA, Charles L. Blumenschein of Hollywood, Calif., passed away January 1, 1969, after an illness of over eighteen months. He was 88 years of age.

A native of Ohio, he spent most of his life in Chicago, Illinois. Since his retirement, he had resided in Hollywood, and was a nearby neighbor of the ANA historian.

Blumenschein joined ANA on July 20, 1907, as member 896. He was one of the first to receive the 25-year membership award in 1949 and in 1957 received the 50-year gold membership award. He collected gold misstrikes for many years but later switched to general. He disposed of his collection several years ago because of advanced age.

In later years, he became quite interested in perpetuating numismatics among the younger generation. As a member of the Hollywood YMCA Coin Club, he took an active part in its programs. — JWO.

Earl Clinton Brown
ANA LM-201

On January 21, the second heart attack in less than 24 hours ended a twelve-year period of invalidism for Earl C. Brown at the age of 81. He suffered a severe stroke early in 1957 which left him bedfast the remainder of his life.

He was born in Council Bluffs, Iowa, but spent most of his life in Chicago as a certified public accountant, first with the Burlington Railroad and, for 33 years, with the Peabody Coal Co. Following his retirement in 1953, he worked with the well-known coin dealers Charles E. and Ruth Green until he suffered the stroke on February 15, 1957.

About 25 years ago Earl shifted his collecting interest from philately to numismatics. He became a member of both the Chicago Coin Club (418) and the American Numismatic Association (9924) in 1944, and of the Central States Numismatic Society (371) in 1948. He was devoted to all three organizations, becoming a life member of ANA (LM-201) and CSNS (LM-72) and serving in an outstanding manner as secretary of CCC (1947-49) and of CSNS (1954-57). All three organizations awarded their Medal of Merit to him for his dedicated services to them.

His collecting interest was varied and serious, but many a numismatist, from coast to coast, will remember him for his friendliness and interest in his fellowmen. Those who saw him during the last twelve years know that he never forgot one of his friends and associations with them, a fact that must have helped to sustain him in his affliction.

Survivors include his wife, Helen, a daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Beedle of California, and grandson Gary Wayne Beedle. A son preceded him in death. — GBS.

Morris W. Gross
ANA 14516

Morris W. Gross of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, died December 2, 1968. He was 83 years of age. A member of ANA since 1947, he held number 14516 and was awarded his 25-year continuous membership award in 1962. He also belonged to several local clubs, including the Liberty Bell and William Penn Coin Clubs.

An inspector for the Public Works department, he got his start when he received a collection of coins from his father which included early proofs and uncirculated sets which he brought up to date. He was a regular exhibitor at club meetings and had participated in National Coin Week. — MWG, Jr., and AS.

Arthur W. Kopp
ANA 1502

The death of the Hon. Arthur W. Kopp, Platteville, Wisconsin, on June 2, 1967, was learned of only recently. He was 92 at the time of his death.

Kopp became a member of ANA in 1911 with number 1502. He received his 25-year silver medal in 1949, and the 50-year gold membership award in 1961. He became interested in coins in childhood and maintained that interest throughout his long life. His specialty was general and U. S. gold.

A lawyer by profession, he became a member of Congress in 1909 and served until 1913. As a member of the lower house, he worked diligently to put through the original 1912 Federal charter of the association. His stirring speech on its behalf helped obtain the "aye" vote necessary for its passage. He was never given the recognition he deserved for his untiring efforts on behalf of the ANA. He was an active counsel in his son's law firm. — JWO.

George Mather, Jr.
ANA 50445

George Mather, Jr., ANA representative for District 6, the state of Texas, died of an apparent heart attack in a New Orleans, Louisiana hotel on January 10. He was on a business trip and his wife, Norma, was on her way to join him for the weekend when the end came. Funeral services were held at the First Methodist Church in Corpus Christi and interment was at the Seaside Mausoleum.

Mather received one of the two outstanding club representative awards for 1968 at the San Diego convention. He and his wife worked closely as a team in promoting organized numismatics on the local, state and national levels.

He was a vice president of the Coastal Iron Works, Corpus Christi, and was originally from Winfield, Kansas, where he was born in 1909. He was a graduate of Texas A & M University, a member of the First Methodist Church, a 32 degree Mason, and the Corpus Christi Propeller Club. Mather was a past president of the Corpus Christi Coin Club and its present treasurer.

Survivors include his wife, Norma, who will continue to represent ANA for District 6; one son, George Mather, III; one daughter, Mrs. William Dorris, Brownsville, Texas; six grandchildren and three sisters. — GR.

Edward L. Oschman
ANA 51782

Edward L. Oschman, president of the Pittsburgh Numismatic Society, died January 3, 1969, after a short illness. He was 59 years of age. In addition to being president of the Pittsburgh Numismatic Society, he was an active member of ANA, the Western Pennsylvania Numismatic Society and various local coin and stamp organizations.

Although his specialty was coins of the Philippines, Oschman had an extensive collection of postcards and other memorabilia which depicted the history of his native city, Pittsburgh.

He is survived by his wife, son, two sisters, and a brother. — EJS, Jr.

Walter Vredenburg
ANA 8739

Noted antique collector and member of ANA, Walter Vredenburg died in his St. Louis, Missouri, home on December 15, at the age of 70.

In numismatics, Vredenburg specialized in rare, uncirculated and unusual items, including a collection of transportation tokens. He was a member of the Missouri Numismatic Society of St. Louis since 1950 and a member of ANA since 1941. His antique specialty was a group of old rare glass paper weights and he was also an avid philatelist.

Mr. Vredenburg was a Mason and a professional trumpet player in his younger years. — MNS.

LATE WORLD IN NEWS

ISRAEL

Shalom for Denver

The director general of the Israel Government Coins and Medals Corp., Jerusalem, recently released the following information on the 1969 Independence Day commemorative coin, Shalom, to be issued by the Bank of Israel.

The coin is dedicated to the men and women who, at the sacrifice of their lives, safeguarded the right to live in freedom, in independence and in peace.

On the obverse of the coin appears the four letters of the Hebrew word, Shalom, of which the first letter, shin, is designed in the form of a candelabrum, three of its seven branches appearing on the right side.

On the reverse appears part of the verse from Deuteronomy, chapter 34:6, about the death of Moses, "And no man knoweth his place of burial." The words are arranged in the shape of a cairn, similar to the "Gal-Ed" which Israel's soldiers raised beside the battlefields in memory of their fallen comrades. Beside the cairn are a net-covered helmet and an olive sapling.

21st Anniversary Coin to be Struck at Denver

The silver crown has a nominal value of 1L10 (10 pounds). In addition to the regular mintage, it is also to be struck in proof and the proofs will bear the tiny Hebrew letter, mem.

Now, since the greatest percentage of sales to collectors happens to be in the United States, the Israeli government has contracted with the U. S. Mint to strike the vast majority of the regular issue coins and the proof coins at the U. S. Mint in Denver. The remainder of the general issue will be struck in Jerusalem and will bear a special mintmark, the Hebrew letter, kof.

The 37mm silver coins will be distributed by Israeli banks in the U. S., but the procedure for ordering has not yet been announced. It is expected that the coins will be available for Israel's 21st anniversary of independence, April 23, 1969.

And Another Issue

The original information in regard to the striking, by the United States Mint at Denver, of the Independence Day commemorative 10-pound piece for Israel came not from the Israel government but was contained in a news article from Fred Bertram, editor of the Journal of Israel Numismatics.

Close on the heels of this announcement, Bertram again scooped the Israel government agency with news of a second 10-pound commemorative for 1969, one to be called the "Pidyon Ha-Ben Shekel." The coin will be issued by the Bank of Israel for use on the occasion of Pidyon Ha-Ben (Redemption of the Firstborn).

The redemption of the firstborn son, according to Jewish law and tradition, Bertram explains, involves the symbolic payment by the father of five pieces of silver (shkalim) in order to redeem the firstborn male child from service in the priesthood, a custom once strictly observed.

The Bank of Israel, in 1968, had discussions on Halacha (Jewish law) with several rabbis regarding its intention to issue these silver coins. The bank posed to the rabbis the problem of the minimum weight required for the coins. According to the Torah, the father can redeem his firstborn son for five shkalim, the weight of which today is subject to rabbinic interpretation. Apparently the bank was told that the minimum weight required in terms of pure silver is just under 100 grams, i.e., five coins of the Victory coin type.

Several private companies in Israel and abroad have previously issued medals for the same purpose, apparently acceptable since the Halacha requires a certain amount of silver, but not necessarily in coin. Confirmation of the Bank of Israel's intention to issue the silver shekels appeared in the Israeli press at the beginning of this year with the bank's announcement of a competition open to Israelis for the design.

Although no date has been announced for issue of the silver shekels, Bertram sees some significance in the brief time allowed for submission of designs. "An appropriate time to issue the shekels," said Bertram, "would be for the Jewish festival of Purim which this year begins on March 4. By doing so the Bank of Israel would be following the precedents established with the issue of the half-shekels in 1961 and 1962."

Some idea of the appearance of the new silver shekels is revealed in the specifications to be met by those entering the competition for designs. The reverse will show the emblem of the state, the nominal value in words, 10 Israel pounds, the year "1969" and the Hebrew letters designating the Hebrew year of 5729; the obverse will bear the words, "Shekel Pidyon Ha-Ben" and the words "You will redeem every firstborn son." Additional designs for the obverse give the designers some leeway — the Tablets of the Law, or a drawing symbolizing the priesthood or Judaism, such as the two outstretched hands, or a combination of a candelabrum, ram's horn, lulav, etc., that would serve as an acceptable sign, token, or symbol of the period extending from the first century to the Middle Ages.

Format of the coin is to be that of the 10-pound Victory coin, 37mm in diameter and both sides flat. Previous Israel silver commemoratives, except the Victory coin, have been noted for their concave surfaces. The journal considers it likely that some, if not all, of the silver shekels will be struck in Jerusalem.

CANADA

Something New Here, Too!

The Department of Finance has announced a competition to secure a design for the 1970 Canadian dollar coin. The coin will commemorate the 100th anniversary of the entry of the Province of Manitoba into Confederation.

A first prize of $3,500 and three honorable mentions of $500 each are offered. Artists, sculptors and designers residing in Canada or Canadians living abroad are invited to submit entries before April 30, 1969.

Designs should incorporate definite Manitoba characteristics as well as the words "CANADA", "DOLLAR" and "MANITOBA," all in capital letters, and the figures "1870-1970."

Competitors should bear in mind that the design will be reproduced in relief on the surface of the coin and it is emphasized that the depth of relief of the present coins cannot be exceeded.

The winning competitor will be required to submit a plaster model of his design eight inches in diameter. A master punch will be reproduced from the model incorporating any modifications mutually agreed upon between the designer and the government. There will be no objection to collaboration between artists, sculptors and designers in the preparation of the plaster model.

Drawings should be eight inches in diameter, on black and white media, and mounted on stiff white cardboard 12" x 12" for ease in judging and filing. No additional lettering should appear on this face and all drawings should have a protective flap hinged at the top.

The back of the cardboard should carry a sheet of paper with the typed or legibly written name and address of the competitor and a description of what has been attempted in the design.

The government is under no obligation to use all or any of the designs. All drawings submitted will become the property of the Crown.

A board of six judges under the chairmanship of the Master of the Mint will be appointed to select the winning designs. Entries should be sent to Mr. E. F. Brown, Acting Master, Royal Canadian Mint, 320 Sussex Drive, Ottawa 2, not later than April 30, 1969.

Engraver's Elixir

UNITED STATES

Young Abe Lincoln

A redesigned master die for the Lincoln cent has resulted in a new look for the old president on the one cent piece. Most obvious point of change, according to Coin World in reporting the change is in the hair-line, with the highest wave now centered under the W of WE. From 1909 through 1968 that wave centered to the left of WE. The hair shows far more detail than it has in a long time, although no more than in the original design by Victor D. Brenner in 1909. There are some changes in the lettering, both in size and placement and the bust now seems to lean a little more forward. Illustrations furnished through the courtesy of Coin World best show these changes.

Call for Nominations of Officers for the ANA

The officers of the American Numismatic Association are elected every two years and 1969 is an election year. The elective officers are president, vice president and seven members of the board of governors. This is in accordance with ANA by-laws, article V, section 1. Those elected to these nine offices will compose the board of governors for the two years following their installation at the 1969 national convention, The Federal Charter rests control of the ANA in the hands of this board.

Nominations shall be submitted in writing to the executive director by any member in good standing, club or individual, who is entitled to vote. Nominations should be sent in early, the nominee must accept in writing or decline by May 28, 1969.

Under section 2: The executive director shall cause a current list of nominations and the actions of the nominees thereon to be published in the issues of The Numismatist for April through July inclusive, of the election year.

Section 3 provides that an independent tabulating firm, designated by the board of governors, should cause the names of such nominees who have so accepted to be printed on official ballots without place of residence appearing on the ballots. Each member entitled to vote will receive a ballot listing the nominees for the various offices. After registering his or her choices, the ballot is to be mailed by each member directly to the designated accounting firm and received on or before July 12, 1969.

The right to choose the officers for the ANA is a prerogative which you should all exercise. I hope you will select capable and willing members who will strengthen and lead our association to new levels of accomplishments.

RARE HAWAIIAN COINS AT DISCOUNT PRICES

Low mintage. Listed in the Red Book. Many melted, especially dollars of which over 400,000 were melted, according to the records at San Francisco. Many additional coins of each denomination were lost to the sea during a revolt by the people against the government in 1893. Few were left. In fact — during our visit to Hawaii we searched the Islands to locate Hawaiian coins and discovered to our amazement that few people living on the Islands even knew that these coins existed. Most inhabitants were amazed when we showed them coins struck by the U. S. Mint for circulation in Hawaii. They are not only no longer in circulation, but few Hawaiians realize that at one time they had their own coinage. Check your Red Book — Excellent investment potential per dollar invested.

ANA Convention

Auction Sale

ONCE AGAIN PARAMOUNT TAKES ON THE "BIG ONE"

Our Company has been selected to conduct the Auction Sale in connection with the American Numismatic Association Convention in Philadelphia next August.

We are proud — very proud — to have been awarded this privilege. The ANA Convention and Auction Sale is always the "key" event of any year and to play such an active part in this stellar attraction is, indeed, a feather in any numismatic cap.

The ANA Convention commands more publicity exposure than any other similar event so if you are planning to sell your collection, or any part of it, this is the time and place to do it!

We already are receiving consignments for this important Sale, so contact us NOW — by 'phone or mail.
DO IT TODAY! We need choice, salable numismatic material for this Sale. Why not let us include yours?

RESERVE YOUR ANA AUCTION CATALOG AND PRICES REALIZED LIST NOW! You may reserve your copy of the large illustrated ANA Catalog and copy of prices realized by sending $2.00 to our Auction Department. You may never own the rarities that will be featured, but a copy of the outstanding 1969 ANA Catalog will be a proud possession and reference work for your own numismatic bookshelf.

CASH ADVANCE

THAT'S RIGHT ! ! ! ! We will advance a percentage of the fair retail value of your collection immediately upon receipt. Please send inventory first — do not send coins until you hear from us. We will then sell your collection at one of our forthcoming auction sales and you will receive your final settlement within 30 days after the sale. Our commission rates are always reasonable.

During the time that your coins are in our possession they are stored in our protected and insured vaults. When you receive your advance check, if for any reason you are not satisfied with the amount of the check, just return it and your coins will be returned postpaid.

In many cases our advance will be almost equal to others offer of outright purchase.

If you are not currently on our mailing list, just drop us a postcard with your full name and address and we will place your name on our catalogue mailing list.

REMEMBER — It is not too late to have your collection included in our next outstanding auction sale.

OUR SALES ARE USUALLY HELD IN THE PARKER HOUSE

We are always in need of desirable numismatic material and will be happy to travel anywhere in the world to acquire it — either for auction or for outright purchase provided the value of the material warrants it.

NO COLLECTION IS TOO LARGE — We will furnish bank references upon request.

PRESIDENT NIXON OFFICIAL INAUGURAL MEDAL

SILVER ISSUE SOLD OUT!

The official 1969 Inaugural Medal-issued in its present form since the 2nd Inauguration of William McKinley in 1901-is now available for immediate delivery. Collectors will be interested in the precedent set by this years edition in the 68 year history of inaugural medals. A sculptured miniature of the crewelwork pattern depicting the Great Seal of the United States, embroidered by Julie Nixon for her father, appears on the reverse side of the medal, along with the wording "To RN-JN". The introduction of a personal family touch in the design is a first in the medals 68 year history. Following tradition, a sculptured portrait of the President appears on the obverse side.

The sculptor-no stranger to the numismatic field, scholar, artist and sculptor Ralph J. Menconi is well known for his talent in creating high relief and full portrait sculpturing. The 52 year old sculptor, residing in Pleasantville, N.Y., gained fame in recent years as creator of the Presidential Art Series, the Statehood Series, the Singers of the Declaration of Independence Series, the Assassinated Presidents Medal, John F. and Robert F. Kennedy Medals, and the extremely high relief of Sir Winston Churchill Medal.

The medal is available as follows:

Bronze - $2\frac{3}{4}$ " diameter with display easel \$6.00 each Silver (pure .999+) $2\frac{1}{2}$ " diameter, limited to 15,000 serially numbered pieces with display easel SOLD OUT

Cromwell's Cousin

John Hampden, born in 1595, is today chiefly remembered for his refusal to pay Ship Money, a tax imposed by Charles I for the raising of a fleet.

This was by no means his only claim to fame. He was a cousin of Oliver Cromwell, entered Parliament at the age of 26 and was instrumental in the prosecution of Stafford. With the outbreak of the Civil War he raised troops for Parliament but in a skirmish with Prince Rupert's army at Chalgrove Field in 1643 he was mortally wounded.

This superb round plate of gold bears a fine portrait of Hampden stamped in imitation of engraving.

This is just one example from our large stock of fascinating medallic pieces available for purchase.

COINS FROM COMMONWEALTH

Colonial Coins

- 1723 Rosa Americana Halfpenny, crowned rose — a nice, light brown VF — the 1723 halfpenny is one of the scarcer Rosas, and is seldom offered for sale 75.00
- 1776 Continental Dollar, Newman 2-C, CURRENCY variety — the two R variety is much scarcer than the one R, and in our opinion more difficult to find in nice condition than the E. G. FECIT. This specimen is about Uncirculated. Because of an insignificant edge defect which does not appreciably detract from the appearance of the piece, we are able to offer it at the exceptionally reasonable price of 695.00
- Kentucky Token, plain edge variety — light to medium brown about uncirculated. Ex Wayne Raymond 45.00
- 1778-9 Rhode Island Ship Token, wreath below ship — a scarce piece in extremely fine condition 160.00
- 1794 Talbot, Allum and Lee mule, JOHN HOWARD reverse, Fuld Mule 5, just about uncirculated, although the usual uneven strike, weak at Liberty's skirt and bottom center of bust, thus giving the impression of circulation.. 40.00
- 1794 Talbot, Allum and Lee mule, 1793 BIRMINGHAM HALFPENNY reverse, Fuld Mule 1 — uncirculated, the obverse mint red with bluish toning, the reverse blazing mint red, proof-like surface. Quite rare and seldom offered at any price 65.00
- 1791 Washington Large Eagle Cent, Baker 15, extremely fine, free of dents or other defects 75.00

Counterfeit Continental currency distributed by the British in the American Revolution is reported as the first time in history that counterfeit money was used as a means of winning a war, rather than for personal gain. The story of the British use of counterfeits in an attempt to undermine the enemy's confidence in the economic stability of its government and thus crush the Revolution is told in the 1957 January and February issues of The Numismatist. Equally fascinating stories, reports, advice and notes on coins have been recording in these and the other issues of the year.

Here is your opportunity to purchase one or more issues you may have missed, or obtain the complete year to have bound.

Cost is 75c per copy when ordered singly, or $6.00 for the entire year, postpaid. Selected articles included:

JANUARY: "Counterfeit Continental Currency Goes to War," by E. P. Newman, concluded in February issue.

FEBRUARY: "Indian and Post Trader Tokens: Our Frontier Coinage," by J. J. Curto.

MARCH: "How to Appraise Coins for an Estate," by Virginia A. Deebles.

APRIL: "Antislavery Tokens," by Melvin and George Fuld.

MAY: "How to Photograph Coins with an Ordinary Camera," by Michael M. Dolnick and Simeon Wilson.

JUNE: "New 1798 Silver Dollar Variety," by Frank M. Stirling.

JULY: "How to Trade Coins," by M. C. Sauer.

SPORT AND WARFARE IN ANTIQUITY

PAMPHYLIA. ASPENDUS. Stater, 400-300 B.C. Two wrestlers engaged in combat. Rv. Slinger, in act of throwing sling. In field, triskeles. VF 52.00

The earliest coin to show a sporting event not connected with warfare. The wrestlers are shown bent over, their hands locked in combat. The slinger on the reverse, again the earliest representation of this activity on a coin, is a poun on the name of the city. The triskeles, three running legs joined, may be a solar emblem symbolizing rotary motion, referring to Lycian Apollo, the God of Light.

We issue quarterly the HESPERIA ART BULLETIN, a profusely illustrated catalog of selections from our stock of ancient coins and Greek and Roman antiquities. Subscription: two dollars for four issues. Trial copy sent on request.

Historic Silver Slug

THIS historic pure silver commemorative piece was designed in the image of the famous $50 gold slug of the mid-1800's. The scales appearing on the obverse are a reproduction of the precious metal scales in the offices of the David C. Davis Co. in San Francisco. They were used to weigh much of the silver redeemed from the redemption of silver certificates prior to June 24, 1968.

Mr. Davis has been in the rare and precious metal business most of his life and was founder of the Western Gold and Platinum Co. in Belmont, California, retiring in 1966.

V. M. Hanks, Jr., a prominent numismatist in the Bay Area, collaborated with Mr. Davis to design and produce this historic and unusual silver slug.

To obtain one of these pieces, send your name and address with your check for $35.00 (California residents add 5% sales tax) to the David C. Davis Co., Silver Slug Dept., 105 Market St., San Francisco, California 94105. All pieces will be sent registered mail. "Mail order only."

RETIREMENT

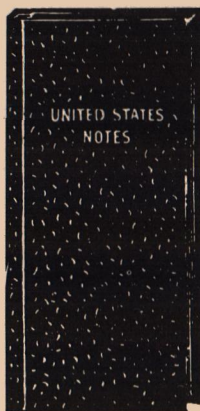

is an idea that I have been toying with for several years. I am now pretty well decided that I would like to get away from the demands of a busy store and spend my remaining years in travel and relaxation. I have a nice store, well situated in the City of Bradenton, but on a busy highway. We buy and sell coins and supplies, paper back and hard cover books, and small antique items, such as old watches, jewelry, and other junkie. I would be glad to work with a responsible buyer, teaching him the business and remaining on call until he is established. I will sell the business without the extensive coin inventory to a responsible person and will consign the coins that are necessary until he has built his own inventory. A minimum of $20,000.00 cash plus good common sense, honesty, and good credit will be necessary. This is ideal for a compatible couple.

NEW AND RECENT ISSUES

The demand for new and recent issues is increasing daily, and as one of the first dealers to bother with them, they represent a substantial part of my lists. Each month I list the new arrivals (both new types and new dates of old types) along with older coins received during the month.

My prices are reasonable, and while we do not have everything, sooner or later most new items reach us.

It will pay you to write for my stock list (which contains recent issues along with older coins) and the monthly list, which is up-to-date on new issues when released. If you are a dealer, please write on letterhead for the current wholesale list. No charge, of course.

GOLD STELLA

The Coin That Was Never Spent

1879 FLOWING HAIR BRILLIANT PROOF, struck in Aluminum — Judd 1637, Rarity 7 with only 4 to 12 made. This Stella is far rarer than the one struck in gold (415 made) but does not sell for as high a price. This is one of America's most famous coins. It was to have circulated throughout the world as an international coin similar to the trade dollar. My — how things have changed. Complete with holder and pouch — $1985.00.
